PLEASANTON, Nov. 17.—Each year at the great game begins to put in its appearance upon our streets and surroundings. It is the habit and custom of some of our people to turn loose their cattle and horses at night and even during the day to graze and wander about at will, caring not what the damage might be to their neighbors and property owners. Ordinance No. 4, Section 18 of town of Pleasanton prohibits such and reads as follows:

"Sec. 18. Any person who wilfully turn at large, or allows to run at large, any of the following named animals: swine, horses, mules, backs, jennets, cattle, sheep, goats, or swine owned or kept by him, or who stakes or ties the same upon any of the public grounds within the limits of the town of Pleasanton is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction or a plea of guilty thereunto, shall be punished by a fine not less than Two and One Half Dollars ($2.50) nor more than Ten Dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding five days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"During the past couple of weeks considerable complaint has been made regarding cattle allowed to roam about at will and doing considerable damage to young trees and shrubbery put out along the back streets.

"What Pleasanton wants is a good pound and poundmaster, and then see that the clause is looked to and the owner after paying a few dollars into the town treasury would perhaps pay more attention to the ordinances of the town.—Bulletin.

Assault Was Justified.
William B. Lee, charged with assaulting Kate Korn with a deadly weapon, was discharged by Justice J. G. Quinn yesterday afternoon. Lee assaulted Korn when she attempted to remove a building from the former's land at Claremont. Judge Quinn found that Lee was justified in brandishing that Korn leave a promise not to use weapons to enforce the demand.

HAYWARDS, Nov. 17.—At the meeting of the Town Trustees Wednesday evening the Town Attorney rendered an opinion that the Water Company must publish its annual statement of receipts and expenditures.

The clerk was instructed to notify the company through the papers to have such a statement published prior to January 15th.

The attorney also advised the board that the town could compel the water company to keep its mains in a condition to insure good fire protection everywhere.

The Fire and Water Committee was instructed to notify the company of their decision and to specify the company the spots where repairs must be made. The mains on B street were spoken of as being in desperate condition.

W. P. Darling, manager of the company, was present and said that the company was now making some repairs and would try to comply with the requirements of the board.

It was reported that the outlet to the main sewer was badly damaged, some of the pipes being broken off.

President Hinar and the Town Engineer were instructed to investigate the matter and see what needed to be done. The engineer was also instructed to draw up plans and specifications for the needed repairs and to bid on the work may be advertised for.

Mr. Emerson, Secretary of the Board of Trade, was present and on behalf of that body requested the Board to take some action to compel peddling wagons from outside points to pay a license.

He also presented to the Board the offer made by H. W. Meek to allow B street to be opened through to the railroad station providing he was not called upon to bear the expense.

The Board discovered that the license ordinance especially stated that no license was to be put on wagons or peddlers, as it was considered a benefit to the people to have fresh fruit and vegetables brought to their doors.

In the matter of the opening of B street the Board decided that while it would be well to have that thoroughfare opened on Castro street had better not be taken up until the proposed improvements on Castro street had been completed.

The Sanitary Inspector was instructed to send a written notification to J. K. Nissen instructing him to abate the nuisance on his property on Castro street.

EMERYVILLE.
EMERYVILLE, Nov. 17.—The Street Committee of the Town of Emeryville is having some necessary repairs made to the streets. At present a force of men is employed in digging a ditch along the west side of San Pablo avenue from Park avenue to General creek. The ditch will drain the water off San Pablo avenue and help to keep that thoroughfare in a passable condition.

The haul on the street is exceptionally heavy. It not only includes a great deal of the traffic between Oakland and Berkeley, but it is also the outlet to a great section of country in the neighborhood of the town of San Pablo. The produce from the farms in that section is mainly brought to market over this road. The hauling from Butcher town also passes over this road, and as this is a busy time of the year, it is a big factor in causing this street.

Scotland is ordering large quantities of steel rails from the United States. At last we have an opportunity to get the balance of trade in our favor as an effect to that whisky account.

General Mills says that we should have one soldier for every 1,000 of our population. That does not seem like an extravagant view when the instances of France and Germany are recalled, where every man-jack has to be a soldier.

Two or three all companies a day are still being imported, the total for the past few months now reaching the 200 mark. Nothing like working a good thing for all there is in it, is the motto of the promoters, and they don't intend to let any smokers escape for want of bait.

The United States Consul at Paraguay in his report to Washington directs attention to the many opportunities appearing there to American enterprise. There can be no questioning California's future, for all along the western line of the South American continent, as well as throughout the Orient, virgin fields of commerce await our call.

At last a skipper has returned from the Far North who says that there are no traces whatever of Andree. Until now everybody has brought back a well-told story of some description, so it is not surprising that the individual who frankly admits that he knows nothing should have brought distinction to himself by the statement.

It is evidence enough that there is no longer any money in securing a national convention when Chicago declines to be a bidder for the honor next year. The Lake City people figure that they have reached a condition where they can forego anything offered to them for the sake of the advertising there is in it. From now on it must be a case of spot cash.

Showers of meteors are well enough from a spectacular standpoint, but we are better satisfied with the real thing that we have been enjoying in the form of rain. The thorough wetting the State is receiving should make every one happy, for if things keep up the way they have been going, we will be able next season to more than duplicate the bounteous crops of this year.

The agitation in the grain market has led to the opening in San Francisco of almost a score of bucket-shops where the gambler's predilection of the metropolis can find vent as well as at the racetrack. They are raving a rich harvest, too, while the sun is shining, for it is of course only a question of time ere the police take a hand in the game and close down the operators. Bucket-shop gambling is one of the greatest evils that can exist in a community.

To the Blue Society belongs the honor connected with the present home trading movement, for it was that organization that started the plan of operations that has since developed so well. It is now, too, apparently about to outdo its former work by succeeding where all others have failed as regards the Free Library site, for the excellent results attending the canvass indicate that the desired outcome will be attained. Oakland can well be proud of such a patriotic, hard-working band of women, who cheerfully forego their own pleasure in the interests of the city.

Hundreds of thousands of pounds of American beef, shipped to South Africa under war contracts, are being thrown overboard on the ground that it is unfit to eat. John Bull is mighty particular where his national dish is concerned, and the way he goes about it makes the contractors wince, for every time a consignment is condemned he not only throws it away, but he strikes the entire lot from his bill. It is a good thing, though, on general principles that he does take such summary action, for the meat men will soon learn that it is a losing game instead of a winning one to try to palm off bad provisions as good.

THE PASSING OF AGUINALDO.

With the capture of Aguinaldo, an event which it is now apparent is not far distant, the campaign in the Philippines will practically come to an end. Every indication of the past few months shows that the insurgent leader only succeeds in retaining authority over his troops by the merest thread, for his men are disheartened and in mortal dread as to what will happen to them when the inevitable meeting with the American soldiers takes place, his officers are disgruntled and willing to sell him out, and the natives of the section of country in which he is operating are no longer in sympathy with him. Among the many causes influencing his approaching downfall is one that he created for himself, when he told his followers that at the elections held in America this month McKinley's policy would be defeated and our troops in consequence be withdrawn from the Philippines, whereas, now that the news has reached his camp of the sweeping victory of the Administration, the impression is created among the insurgents that their last hope is gone.

As a matter of fact, the rebel forces are no longer worthy of the title of an army. An unbroken chain of defeats has transformed the insurgents into a mob of a few thousand fugitives who are hurrying and scurrying over the mountain trails in a vain attempt to get beyond reach of the advancing foe. The news that General O'Quinn's army has been reinforced with a mighty host of 60,000 men has naturally added to the alarming effects, and what was formerly a retreat has now become a rout, the utter hopelessness of which is rendered the more impressive by the fact that they have no sanctuary to head to, and as the American army is fast closing in on them, it is evident that either absolute surrender or annihilation is at hand.

The most remarkable feature of the whole campaign is that the rebels are fighting for a local independence that we have been perfectly willing to give them from the start, and had it not been for the personal ambitions of Aguinaldo, who essayed to play the role of dictator, there would have been no occasion to fire a shot on either side. It has been a costly experience for us, but one not without reward, for in addition to thoroughly establishing our supremacy in the islands, we have added to the glories of the American arms by showing to the world how in little more than a year we were able to quell a rebellion with which Spain had struggled a decade in vain. The end is coming at a good time, for had the campaign lasted until next year, when our national issues were before the people, the Democrats might have been able to make some capital out of it. Now, however, the complete surrender of the rebels—an event that is certain to occur within a short time—will be another victory for the Administration, and one that will appear very forcibly to the people, for no matter though some may have deemed our cause wrong, there is a natural pride in national triumphs achieved by force of arms. Atkinson and others like him may storm and prate, but what the American people will figure on is that the Stars and Stripes has again been carried to victory over bloody battlefields, and that the whole world has had another good evidence of our capabilities in the fighting line.

Secretary Gage's proclamation, calling in $5,000,000 worth of war bonds will make the Old World nations gasp with envy. To think that right in the midst of an expensive war the treasury has so much money on hand that it is seeking outlets to get it into circulation will make the imprudent monarchs regard us with a respect amounting almost to reverence. While the Czar of Russia is running around Europe trying to borrow money in every capital, here we are with so much cash on hand that we scarcely know what to do with it.

If the reports are verified of the death of General Joubert, then indeed have the Boers sustained a great loss, for he was in a sense the mainspring of the whole army. Although personally a more rugged battler, the whole world gives him credit for being a brilliant tactician in the field and a daring, level-headed commander, and it is doubtful if the burghers have another man fit to take the place of the Van Mankie of South Africa.

Now that the interests of the Pacific Coast are so vitally at stake in the railroad joining case pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission, it can be seen why we were so anxious to have the West directly represented upon the board. A decision adverse to us in the present instance will mean losses of hundreds of thousands of dollars to our business men.

Seven thousand American soldiers all told have lost their lives since war was declared with Spain. Of this number only 26 were killed in battle, and 202 succumbed to gunshot wounds, so a precious illustration is afforded of the old claim that disease is the greatest of the terrors of war. In the case in point it caused 90 per cent of the entire mortality.

As soon as our ducky regiments get to Manila General O'Quinn will have a good excuse for coloring some of those reports he sends from the front.

AN APPEAL.
President Wheeler and Regent Arthur Rodgers have sent the following appeal to the students of the University of California, and friends of Greek literature and art in California:
The American School of Classical Studies at Athens was founded in 1881 for the purpose of affording to American graduates an opportunity to carry on advanced studies in Greek literature, history and art, amid the inspiring influence of residence in Greece, with congenial companionship and abundant instruction. For eighteen years the school has been doing

NO EXPANSION FOR SPRECKELS.
Small Concerns to Be Absorbed and Tolls Lowered.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—John D. Spreckels, president of the National Telephone Company, passed through Chicago last night on his way to St. Louis, where he will attend the meeting of the National Committee at Washington, D. C., December 14th.
"I am an anti-expansionist," said he, "and as I come through the great cities of the West on this trip I could not help but think of the great good that might be done by the telephone company with the money which we are now spending to maintain the army in the Philippines."
"If that money had been spent in irrigating the Western countries I believe the United States would have reaped greater benefits than it has ever will by the retention of the Philippines."
Mr. Spreckels said that he thought it was very probable that the National Committee would select Chicago as the place for holding the next national convention.

BRYAN'S WINTER CAMPAIGN.
Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Special to the Chronicle from Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17: Col. W. J. Bryan is preparing for a campaign in the Eastern States this winter. He will confine his efforts largely to New England, though he will devote some time to the large cities of the Atlantic coast as far south as Richmond. Mr. Bryan is coming to Chicago to see his wife, who is recovering from an illness. He will return to Nebraska next week, and about the first of December will start East.

COFFIN SAYS IT WAS CASE OF FRAUD.
Ottis L. Coffin has filed an answer and cross-complaint to the action brought against him by Juan P. Lacoste. The latter is suing to compel Coffin to keep an agreement by which he agreed to exchange property in this city for property in Chicago. Lacoste claims he paid $2,000 damages for Coffin's refusal to keep the contract.

LADY TOOK A GLASS OF BEER.
The jury in the case of J. Jurgens, who was tried yesterday in the District Court on the charge of selling liquor without a license, standing on two to two for acquittal. This was brought about by the failure of the witness named the woman who it is alleged, purchased a glass of beer from the defendant. The woman is the wife of a man named Morine who aids License Inspector Malone in securing evidence against violations of the liquor ordinance.

Prizes for Stories.
"The Raven" will contain five original articles each month from the pen of Mary Lambert or others. Prizes are offered for four good American stories of not more than 1,000 words. The first prize, $50; second, $10; third, $5; fourth, $2.50.

"So you've set up a hired girl" said farmer Muchland to his son. "Your mother never had a hired girl. She worked early and late, and raised a family. Hired girl indeed! Look at your mother, sir." "I'm just looking at mother" said the son. "made me resolve that my children's mother should never look like her, worn out in her prime."

In the partnership of marriage women give twice as much as men. They give equal work, and they give themselves, their very life. Children come. No chance for rest, work must go on. Inflammation, ulceration, debilitating drams and female weakness, undermine the health and shake the nervous system. In a few years the woman is worn out.

Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription say that they can do their own work and keep their strength and good looks. It cures inflammation, ulceration, female weakness and unhealthy drains.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free of charge. "About two years ago my health became very poor from female weakness and troubles peculiar to my sex. In fact I was so weak that I was unable to do but little work," writes Mrs. Josie M. Guss, of Balfour, Calumet Co., Ill. "I decided to try a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and give it a trial. I took two bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Pink Pills,' and these proved to be all I needed. I felt stout and well after taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and have been doing my work with more satisfaction than I had ever felt before."

NATURAL POWER OF NANCE O'NEIL.
Nance O'Neil, the gifted young Californian, who comes to the Macdonough opera Wednesday for a four nights and Saturday matinee engagement, is an actress of extraordinary ability. Comparisons of actresses and roles are somewhat out of place when the role is conceived for her. She is the role. She actually lives the emotions she portrays. It is this vital quality of her work which makes her work so telling and so thrilling. To say that she is natural, expresses feebly the extent to which she is the reverse of the artificial. Her artificiality even in its highest form, at best can but tickle the intellect and please the fancy.

Miss O'Neil's Oakland engagement will be a society as a dramatic and financial success, if the numerous inquiries for choice seats count for anything. The sale of seats begins Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The prices will be 25, 50, and 75 cents.

THE SITUATION IN SAMOA

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Advices to the Associated Press from Alia, Samoa, dated November 2, received today per the steamer Alia, from the Hawaiian ports, via Alia and Honolulu, state that everything is quiet in the Samoan group; that the natives are in possession of the islands, and that the Samoan government will not pay the taxes over to the government.

At the time of the departure of the Alia from Alia nothing was known at the islands of the announced intention of the three powers to agree on a sub-division of the group, and the Associated Press correspondent states that "unless agreement is reached in the Samoan question, war will be inevitable in these islands."

That the arms of the natives were not all confiscated in the Samoan group, is evident. Weapons seem to be becoming more and more plentiful and in one village alone seventy-two guns have been counted.

The United States Government wharf at Pago-Pago is progressing rapidly now, and the completion of the wharf is expected. The United States Government agents are negotiating the purchase of land adjoining the coaling station.

HELD A SHORT SESSION

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, which is investigating the complaint of St. Louis bus lines against the street car light rates, held a short session today and adjourned to meet again at a date to be determined by the commission.

The principal witness examined today was Richard L. Walker of the Panama and Pacific Steamship Company. He said his company made rates corresponding with those fixed by the railroads, and shipped most of their merchandise from New York.

The railroads guaranteed him a tonnage every month of 3,000 tons, with the exception of the summer months consolidated three years ago.

Mr. Jackson, who gave testimony in the case, was cross-examined. This ended the session.

WIFE MURDERER HANGED

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Michael Emil Rollinger, who choked his wife to death December 16, 1908, and then set fire to the house in an endeavor to hide his crime, was hanged today in the County Jail.

In an impassioned speech from the gallows Rollinger protested his innocence. He said he had been deceived and wronged. All his money had been taken from him and he was left penniless.

It is supposed that Rollinger killed his wife in order that he might marry Lena Heiler. He had two trials, the first before Judge James C. McLaughlin, who acquitted him, and the second before Judge James C. McLaughlin, who convicted him.

One of the chief witnesses against him was his 11-year-old son, who declared all the children had been sent away on the day the crime was committed.

GREENWOOD MUST GET NEW BONDSMEN

YOUNG GIRL NEEDS FAMILY TRAINING

The case of Annie Bridgman, the 19-year-old girl charged with stealing 90 cents from her grandmother, was continued by Judge Hall yesterday afternoon in order that an attempt might be made to find her a home with some family. Judge Hall said that he did not consider the young girl a subject for a reform school. He thought that family training was all she needed.
